Call for attention to a suspicious facsimile message

Dear all,

I wish to express my sincere gratitude to your continuous support and understanding for our company operation.

Recently, a malicious facsimile message asking for advertisement and sponsorship on our 45th anniversary under our representative name has been distributed.

I would like to emphasize that our company is in no way related to this facsimile message, and wish you to take notice to this.

Please address all inquiries regarding this matter to General Affairs Department of the company as below.
